DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
2. The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
4. Regarding Claim 1, it is unclear what is meant by the reference to "surface side thereof" and "inner side thereof" when only two layers are claimed for this "electrical contact." Does this language mean that there is necessarily present another layer or structure so that inner and surface can be uniquely defined? Does this language mean that the first layer envelops the second layer? Does it mean something else? It is unclear what is the relationship between the claimed alloy composition and the compositions of the layers. Must the composition of the layers, individually or in totality, meet the claimed composition requirements? Must either of the layers be comprised of the claimed alloy? It is unclear whether the claimed "average hardness" is an "average surface hardness." It is unclear whether a specific surface should be utilized or avoided in ascertaining the claimed "average hardness" for each layer. Should the surface of the outer side of the first layer and the interfacial surface of the inner side be used or avoided?

Art Unit: 1775

5. Regarding Claims 3 and 4, it is unclear whether the claimed additional elements necessarily refer to additional ingredients of the alloy or to ingredients of the contact, or both.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

7. A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

8. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Uenishi et al. JP 2003-217375. Uenishi et al. teaches a cadmium free silver/indium/tin alloy two-layered contact, wherein the first layer possesses the claimed hardness and thickness and wherein the second layer possesses the claimed hardness. See Uenishi et al. (Abstract; Table 1; paragraphs 6, 7, 10-12, and 15-33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

Art Unit: 1775

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

11. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over

Uenishi et al. JP 2003-217375. Uenishi et al. teaches a cadmium free silver/indium/tin alloy two-layered contact, wherein the first layer possesses the claimed hardness and thickness and wherein the second layer possesses the claimed hardness. See Uenishi et al. (Abstract; Table 1; paragraphs 6, 7, 10-12, and 15-33). To the extent that Uenishi et al. may not exemplify the claimed second layer hardness, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to fabricate the contact of Uenishi with the claimed hardness value for the second layer as Uenishi suggests that second layer hardness values of 130 are effective.
